The Dying Breath: A Forensic Mystery By Alane Ferguson

Seventeen year old Cameryn Mahoney is the assistant to the county coroner, so she's no stranger to death. But when it's possible that the next death under investigation might be your own, things take on a whole new meaning. Cameryn thought she was done with Kyle O'Neil after his first attempt to kill her in Angel of Death. But now he's back, and he's after her again. Compelling and gripping, this newest addition to the Forensic Mystery series will have readers on the edge of their seats.

Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

Grade 9 Up—Cameryn Mahoney is startled when she finds a note addressed to her at a crime scene. The letter was left by Kyle O'Neil, a psychopath running from the law. The 17-year-old is the assistant to the coroner, but she is removed from the case since it now involves her. Unable to return to a normal life while O'Neil remains at large, Cameryn must put an end to his reign of terror. The protagonist is an interesting character. She is fascinated by forensics and impresses the medical examiner, who agrees to mentor her even though she's a teenager. She can be childish when she's upset and has a tendency to rush headlong into dangerous situations. The descriptions of the autopsies are not for the squeamish. Unfortunately, while this installment in the series is fast paced, it is predictable and shallow.—Lori A. Guenthner, Baltimore County Public Library, Randallstown, MD
